

Penzance Community Flora Group

As most people know, Flora volunteers take care of the flowerbeds in and around Penzance. The work they do in Warfe Road, the Abbey Basin and many other flowerbeds in the town has given Penzance a cared for look, adding colour and design to our open spaces.

The polytunnel used for bringing on plant has now been rehoused at the fire station, so the work can continue. The next major project will be filling and organising placement of the summer hanging baskets.

Apart from gardening fund raising is the volunteers' main activity. In March a quiz night, buffet and huge raffle was held at Waves, Paul Shaw presiding. It was a fabulous evening with wonderful food and good company, (I won 4 prizes), raising over £740 for plants and other necessities.

Thanks to all the brilliant volunteers who are out in all weathers making our town a more beautiful place.
